The online-portal: Information and counseling

On a daily basis, the abi» portal at www.abi.de provides up-to-date answers to questions concerning studies, vocational training and professions.

It presents a broad mix of information in an entertaining way, with an interactive section, riddles, surveys and tests. Newsletters on requested topics round out the site's offerings.

In line with students' various life situations, the abi» portal is divided into different sections.

Print publications and special issues

The six annual issues of the abi» magazine are available free in schools and at German job-information centers. Each issue contains articles on studies and on professions and careers, reports about courses of study and professions, a sweepstake and a report on the job market.

The publication's six regular issues are complemented by special issues such as abi extra» master, abi extra» parents and abi extra» teachers. In addition, the abi» team provides teachers with classroom materials.
